

OVERVIEW

It's getting increasingly important for IT buyers to look at the "bigger picture" before making technology decisions, and salespeople must adapt to sell the "bigger picture". Transform to Solution Selling will empower your sales organization to adopt a more consultative mindset and advance from simple product transacting to solution selling.

Leveraging the industry standard sales cycle, AFV will incorporate proven consultative skills into your existing methodology and processes to create an easy to replicate, consistent practice for sales representatives at all levels.
